

POGGIO LE COSTE

Antico Proprietà della Nobile Casata Buneis

Poggio Le Coste is situated in the province of Asti, in an area that is particularly well suited to the production of high quality, world-renowned wines.

It is one of the largest single-unit estates in Piedmont, formerly owned by the noble Conti Buneis family and is characterised by a splendid natural amphitheatre of more than 100 hectares that embraces the estate's vineyards, all at between 250 and 350 metres above sea level. The bond with the territory and with tradition is further strengthened by the desire to enhance and promote local native vines, ambassadors of Piedmont wine worldwide.

WINEMAKING AND AGEING

Following a soft pressing, aimed at utilising the most aromatic part of the grapes, the must is transferred to an autoclave where alcoholic fermentation starts. When the alcohol content reaches 5 %, fermentation is stopped by lowering the temperature, which prevents the yeasts from completing the transformation of sugar into alcohol. This preserves the natural sweetness of the grape and its aromatic properties.
